

Roger Bedimo, MD, MS

Dr. Bedimo is Professor of Medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center (UTSW) and the Chief of Infectious Diseases at the VA North Texas. His research interests include the analysis of rates and mechanisms of chronic complications of HIV disease and antiretroviral therapy, as well as the contribution of HCV co-infection on HIV-associated morbidity. Dr. Bedimo is also a Clinical Research Site (CRS) leader for the AIDS Clinical Trials Group, and a member of the DHHS HIV treatment guidelines panel.